

THESys Graduate Program THESys Colloquium: Summer 2023

Fridays, 1-3 p.m., R 3.25 (RUD 12B) and via Zoom: <https://hu-berlin.zoom.us/j/63756149319>

Date	Presenter	Title of presentation
28.04.	Dr. Franziska Gaupp (Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research (PIK))	A new research mind for the 21st century – a transdisciplinary inquiry.
	Anna Heitger (HU Berlin: THESys Graduate Program/ Ethnology Department)	An ethnography of future eating practices.
12.05.	David Chen (PIK/ THESys Graduate Program)	The importance of consumer food prices in climate mitigation scenarios.
	Marvin Heine (HU Berlin: THESys Graduate Program/ Ethnology Department)	atmos/fears: learning to be affected by landscapes on fire.
26.05.	Jamie Burton (HU Berlin: THESys Graduate Program/ Biogeography)	Understanding Human-Carnivore Coexistence in South America's Tropical Dry Forests.
	Anja Klein (HU Berlin: THESys Graduate Program/ Ethnology Department)	Modeling as relational knowledge practice: Translating “water” into a statistical analysis of the correlation of flooding and diarrhea case numbers in coastal communities in Ghana.
9.06.	Mehwish Zuberi (HU Berlin: THESys Graduate Program/ RG: Integrative Geography)	tba
	Clemens Jänicke (HU Berlin: THESys Graduate Program/ Geography Department)	Farm Types and the Provision of Ecosystem Services in Brandenburg.
23.06.	Hyunjin Park (HU Berlin: THESys Graduate Program/ Leibniz Institute for Agricultural Engineering and Bioeconomy (ATB))	After the hype is gone: institutional change and strategies of biogas actors.
	Katharina Bäuml (HU Berlin: THESys Graduate Program/ Agricultural and Food Policy/ Thünen Institute Braunschweig)	Problem constitution in agricultural policy-making: the case of preventive soil protection in Germany.
7.07.	Miguel Angel La Rosa Salazar (HU Berlin: THESys Graduate Program/ Agricultural and Food Policy)	Institutions and Agricultural Frontiers: A Systematic Literature Review.
	Mina Karamesouti (HU Berlin Geography Department/ THESys Graduate Program)	Declarative Logic Programming for Community Knowledge Representation – Learning the System.
21.07.	Marie Pratz (HU Berlin: THESys Graduate Program/ Biogeography)	Integrating social diversity into conservation planning: Land-systems as a middle-ground between overgeneralization and idiosyncrasy.
	tba	